The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the continuation data should be updated, i.e., 11/152,112 is now abandoned.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 1, line 4, there is a lack of antecedent basis for "the vertical line" and "the initial upper curvature".

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

As best understood, claims 1-3 are further rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hanson (3,591,983). Hanson (3,591,983) discloses an operating device comprising a vehicle (10) includes at least one slider (42) joined to the window (30) and guided along a rail (34) which defines the window (30) trajectory, the window (30) moves along a curved path in three dimensions, and a means to adjust (58, 52, 72, 48) the curvature of radius of the mounting device between the window (30), the slider (42), and the rail (34), and a bracket (36) having fasteners which allows the rail to be adjusted there-along. Hanson ('983) further discloses an angle of departure between +45 degrees and -45 degrees. Hanson ('983) fails to disclose a curvature of radius of more than 500mm. As shown in figure 4, the window (30) has a curvature of radius as the window (30) slides upwards but fails to specifically state that the curvature of radius is more than 500mm. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the curvature of radius to be more than 500mm since the curvature of radius is based on the shape of the vehicle door and the window opening and one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention would provide the proper engineering spec's to allow the curvature of radius to be more than 500mm which allows the vehicle door to be shaped more curvily. Furthermore, the operating device of Hanson ('983) would operate equally as well with a curvature of radius that is more than 500mm.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
